ABOUT SGA

Who We Are

Founded in 1969, the Society of Georgia Archivists (SGA) represents over 200 repositories that care for historical records. In association with its member archivists, librarians, records managers, museum and historical agency personnel and educators, the Society of Georgia Archivists is working to preserve the past and the present for the future.

What We Do

Through SGA's affordable educational programming, publications, and outreach initiatives, the Society provides its members with the information, training, and support needed to identify, preserve, and make accessible the records of the past and the present.
